

How to apply: Evolve Arts Agency.

The agency represents actors aged from around five years old to young adults.

We're always interested in hearing from new talent, so if you're interested in applying for representation, please send us a self-taped video. Here's how to go about it:

- Film a short introduction, saying your name and age to camera, and where you are based.
- Film a short drama piece (very young kids can tell us a poem or a funny story instead)
- If you are a singer or dancer, you can add short clips of a song and of a dance routine as appropriate.

There are lots of short monologues available online, and your school library should also have books of collected audition pieces available.

We'd like you to use your own initiative to find a suitable piece, so please don't ask us for recommendations. However, we would urge you to choose a piece featuring a character of your own age and using your own native accent.

Avoid Shakespeare speeches or scripts written in archaic speech, as we need to get an idea of what you would be like in a contemporary piece.

The drama piece shouldn't be any longer than a minute in length. Before you record, please check the settings on your camera. Many phones now record at very high resolution by default, and the resulting files are enormous! Please select the lowest resolution, which should be 720p. Your video can be up to 100MB in size which should be plenty. If your video is bigger than that, please resize it before uploading.

Click here for advice on how to record and send self tapes.

Once your video is ready, please save it as a single file and send it to simon@evolve-arts.com together with a recent head and shoulders photo and a CV, including your home address and contact details. Your CV is where you can tell us about previous experience (if you have any), about any relevant skills, and include links to any other videos you'd like us to look at.

Once we have reviewed the video, we will be in touch to arrange a visit to the Evolve Arts studios to meet and chat.

Many Thanks,

Simon.